Work Intensified To Fill Petitions For Incorporation

Work has been intensified in securing signers on the petitions calling upon the Nevada County Board of Supervisors to call an election to determine whether the Truckee and Donner area shall be incorporated as a city.

January 10 has been established as the final date for filing the petitions with the board and while it is possible there are already sufficient signatures, the committee from the Truckee Donner Chamber of Commerce, headed by Dr. Ben King, is striving to obtain more, so that there will be no question as to having the required number.

The January 10 deadline will assure an election in September.

Mrs. King, who with Chamber Secretary Pat Tonini, is securing signers, said that she would appreciate a call at her home 587-3114 from anyone wishing to sign the petition and who has not yet been contacted. A signature on a petition does not necessarily mean that the signer favors the proposition, but simply will permit it to come before the voters for a majority decision.

Proponents of the incorporation plan are stressing the necessity for local government for this growing community, pointing out the ever-increasing trend of state and federal returns of tax money, subsidies and financial assistance to organized cities. In communities like Truckee, the pay-outs in taxes, licenses, etc., are continuing to grow, with the money collected here being distributed to incorporated cities and counties where governing bodies are set up to handle the money in developing facilities authorized by state and federal agencies.

With the completion of the new freeway, they point out, the need for local government to sponsor local projects and continue the development of the community under an organized plan is an absolute necessity.

Fire Destroys Last Portion Of Tahoe Tavern Tuesday

TAHOE CITY—What was left of the historic Tahoe Tavern after the wreckers had completed their demolition work this week, was completely destroyed by fire which started about 5 p. m. Tuesday.

Fire Chief Al Henry who headed the Tahoe City Department in the battle against the flames, said the fire was spectacular but that there was little the department could do in combating it as all the hydrants had been removed and there was no water available.

The property, built about the turn of the century, was owned by Moana Development and U. S. Plywood Co. and it is planned to develop the area during the coming months.

The portion destroyed Tuesday was a center section of the main building which the developers had hoped to salvage. All other structures had been demolished.

Compact Group To Study Water Plans

The first complete draft of an interstate compact designed to allocate waters of Lake Tahoe and the Truckee, Walker and Carson rivers between California and Nevada will be reviewed by the California and Nevada water experts on March 3.

This was determined at the 49th meeting of the California-Nevada Interstate Commission held in Reno Monday.

Basically, the agreement recognizes all present uses of water and gives California a maximum diversion of 23,000 acre feet from Lake Tahoe basin, and 11,000 acre feet for Nevada annually. Diversion unused, or surplus water in the Truckee river goes 75 per cent to Nevada and 25 per cent to California, while the Carson will provide 20 per cent to California and 80 per cent to Nevada and the Walker 65 per cent to Nevada and 35 per cent to California.

Most of the water under dispute rises in California and flows into Nevada where it has been used for irrigation purposes as well as domestic use.

Greyhound Permit Allows Bypassing Of Resort Areas

The California Public Utilities Commission at San Francisco has authorized Greyhound Lines in an interim order to reroute its operations via the new freeway over the Sierra Nevada from its present route over Donner Summit via Highway 40.

It required Greyhound, however, until July 1, 1965 to provide Donner Lake Lodge with daily service, either direct or by reasonable connection at Truckee, with at least two schedules eastbound and two schedules westbound. The bus line also is required to provide Donner Summit Lodge with daily service of at least two schedules eastbound and two westbound.

Greyhound must show in its time tables that stops at the freeway bus turnouts at Soda Springs and Donner Park have no shelter and telephones are not available. The commission said these turnouts frequently would not be safe for passengers during the winter.

The order is effective at once and the new routings may be made effective on not less than 10 days' notice to the public and the commission.

The freeway route bypasses Donner Lake, Summit, Norden, Soda Springs, Rainbow Tavern, Big Bend Ranger Station, Cisco Grove and Emigrant Gap. Residents and businessmen of the Donner Lake area and Donner Summit protested the change and Placer County Board of Supervisors urged the commission to deny the Greyhound application.

The order said there has been no opportunity for local communities to take action with regard to constructing shelters and the interim order was issued to provide service until shelters can be built at the bus turnouts.

The commission pointed out that after next July 1 service need be provided only at bus turnouts on the freeway.

This has really been our year. By "our" I mean the people at this end of the lake. You've all heard about the two trips won by Noel Hulbert in the Harrah's Club Annual Deer Hunt Contest. He will be going to an island off the eastern coast of Mexico for a twelve day fishing trip. This trip will be taken in March. The other trip next fall, is a fully guided antelope hunt in South Dakota. Mrs Hulbert will be going on both outings.

Well, yesterday, Bill Tamblyn went out to Winnemucca to claim his prize in the Star Grill and Broiler Deer Hunters Contest. He won a Tuxedo Park Jeep. It's the open air kind and he thinks that the station wagon type Jeep they already own would be a little warmer.

Skip Mandeville and his wife Margaret, had a baby boy on November 10th. Walter F. Mandeville, III wighed in at 8 pounds, 14 ounces. Skip is stationed at Bittberg Air Force Base, Germany.

Last Tuesday the Women's Club of North Lake Tahoe held their annual Christmas party .It was held in the Nevada Lodge. The tickets were only $3.50 even though the dinner cost $4.50. The balance was paid out of the Women's Club treasury. A wonderful time was had by all that attended the gala affair. Some of those there were: the Sipes, the Newells, the Dranevs, the J. C. Jordans, Ruth Mizner, Mildred Matthias, the Cooleys, their friends the Bordens, the Ted Bradleys—about 65 in all. Otto Walters was dressed as Santa and had a bag full of goodies that he passed out to all the guests. Mrs. Bill Egan was the decoration chairman. Eleanor is so talented along these lines. She made red and white carnations out of crepe paper. These were arranged in split logs which had been flocked and then covered with greens. The decorations were sold at $1 apiece after the party was over. Each candle on the table had a red or green bow on it too. Lots and lots of work. The next meeting of the Women's Club will be the last Monday in December. Contact Inez Jordan, president or Eleanor Egan for time and place.

We're so sorry to report that Chuck and Beth Smith will be moving back to Grass Valley about December 15th. They moved here four years ago. At least they aren't going to a strange community. They lived in Grass Valley many years before being transferred here by the Telephone Company. They have a home and many friends at the other end of their move. Do come back and see us, Beth and Chuck.

As of Monday, December 14, Curly Mason will no longer be seen at the helm of the big blue tow truck, pulling the remains of broken vehicles up the hill. He has sold his business to Ronald Sly. Ron and his wife, in years passed, lived at that lake. So they should not be strangers to some of the long time residents. The past several years Ron has been working for a mechanic in the Oakland area.

Curly is looking forward to a little time of relaxation—well deserved relaxation at that—he has been operating Kings Beach Automotive for thirteen years now. As he puts it, "Seven days a week gets to be a grind, especially when it's nights too. Lots of nights I went out twice to pick up wrecks."

He and Ann are moving into their home on Fox and just rest for a while and then add hunting and fishing to the schedule. They'll be here at least until June Then they'll make some new plans, maybe including getting away for a while.

The Pathfinders, a 4th, 5th and 6th grade group meeting after school, at the Methodist Church sponsored a pot luck dinner last Friday night. They had a very nice puppet show with it. They made all the puppets by hand and arranged the nativity story to be told in speech, narration and song. The purpose of all their long hours of work was the Clara Van Hooser Memorial Alter Fund. Upon Clara's death last spring, the church established a memorial fund which many people donated to instead of sending flowers to the funeral.

Since Clara was the founder and the teacher and backer of the Pathfinder group, they wanted to contribute to her honor too. They have worked d i l i n g e n t l y for several months to fulfill their task. At the dinner-puppet show they took an offering to make possible their donation to the fund. They received $11.50 in behalf of their efforts.

Incline Village School is having their Christmas program on December 16th. The little children are always so cute with their presentation. I think that one of the most important parts of Christmas is enjoying the children enjoying themselves. The expressions, the nerves, the smiles, they're the rewards for all the evenings spent making costumes and memorizing lines.

Last year when the Kings Beach School presented their seasonal offering, grandma and grandpa took my oldest son, then three, to their program. All day we prepared for the evening. He could hardly eat his dinner. After dinner we dressed him in white shirt, good pants, and bow tie. He even insisted that his shoes be "painted with daddy's black stuff." Then his only comment during the whole production — "Grandma, Why is everyone wearing their bathrobes? Is it bedtime"?

The Ladies Auxiliary of Post No. 7077, Crystal Bay, Nevada, met at the home of Unadel Crawford on Wednesday evening, December 2, to cut out the felt stockings for Christmas for the TB children at Weimar. These are to be filled with candy and toys and, together with a crate of oranges, will be delivered to the Sanitarium for distribution. This year there are seventeen children, ranging in age from seven month to fifteen years, both boys and girls. The Brownies, under the supervision of Mrs. Kay Felte, made beautiful cards to be placed on the trays of the children. Present at the meeting were President Cleda Liddle, hostess Unadel Crawford, Mrs. Peg Nelson Mrs. May Weathers, Louise Walter, Mrs. Stella Farrell. After the work was completed, cookies and coffee were served to round out the evening.

The Community Methodist Church will have their Christmas program, with the theme: "Let's Put Christ Back in Christmas", on Sunday, December 20 at 7:30.

With our early winter this year, everyone of the Old Timers is talking about the deep snows of 1931, 1938 and the famous one of 1952, when it was necessary to snowshoe to the grocery store. Milk and bread almost weren't. A good many people were snowed in and snowed out during these storms.

Ted and Stella Startz write from Guaymas, Mexico, that after having started out at the beginning of the last storm, they had snow all the way to Nogales and are happy to be basking in the sun nowadays and enjoying the fishing.

Joe and Ella Rae Fulton write from down near Morro Bay that they had so much abalone, shellfish, etc., a hamburger would taste mighty good right now.

Welcome home to Thresa Denton. She went to Los Angeles last week to have a checkup and another session of ear surgery. She had the first operation several years ago and was to return for a second time in one year. Well, she postponed it as long as possible, into the second year. When she got there, all prepared for surgery, the doctors decided that the ear had healed itself and there was no need for further operations. This is wonderful news.

Well, that's all for this week.

RIDE THE JULEBUK—The "Nisse" (Danish Christmas elf) takes time out from his duties as assistant to the "Yule Man" (Santa Claus) to assist a youngster onto the "Julebuk" (the Danish equivalent to Santa's reindeer) during one of the authentic Danish Christmas parties held in California this year. Children from various youth organizations and agencies in Los Angeles and San Francisco were hosted to the parties by the William F. Heering Co. of Copenhagen, Denmark. Authentic Danish dances and songs were featured during the celebrations. The 30,000 Danes now living in California gives this state the largest Danish population outside Denmark itself.

Mickey Turner and Margo Are Held Over For Week

CRYSTAL BAY— Hailed as one of the best twosomes in the Reno-Tahoe entertainment whirl, Mickey Turner and Margo duo have been held over an extra week in the Topaz Room of North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge.

Mickey Turner . . . arranger, instrumentalist and vocalist . . . for several years led his own combe in some of the better night spots across the nation. At the same time, Margo was a rising young rock 'n' roll singer and songwriter. She has written and recorded a number of her new songs, many of the rock 'n' roll variety.

Highly successful as solo entertainers, the pair of bright young people have combined their talents to present a major surprise in mirth and music. When the pair joined forces, the style of each changed considerable. The act features a variety of long-time favorites, many of them made famous during the 1930's.

The latest recording pressed by Mickey and Margo features Margo's vocal styling of the oldie "Ma, He's Making Eyes at Me", with Margo's own composition, "Test of Love", on the flip side.

The pair terms the act "intimate" with the accent on careful musical artistry and light comedy.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO— (CNS)— Many legislators, observers and lobbyists predict that the 1965 session of the legislature will be the "hottest" in the history of California.

Whether it is or not remains to be seen. But it is a certainty that the session will be history making, as 1965 is destined to be the year the United States Supreme Court takes over the constitutional authortiy of the people of California.

This is in relation to the order affecting reappropriation, and the order of the U. S. Circuit court in Los Angeles to accomplish the reapportionment by July 1, 1965 "or else."

The "or else" part of the order is the threat that unless the California legislature complies the court will do the reapportionment itself, through probably a special master.

The order bears out the contention more than month ago of State Senator Stephen Teale, West Point who in a speech at the annual meeting of the Cafilornia Manufacturers Association in San Francisco, declared it would be incumbent for the legislature to act as soon as possible.

And the circuit court said reapportionment must be the first order of business when the legislature convenes next month. There still is a question as to whether the solons can attend to any other business until the issue is settled.

Senator Teale says the order will send 16 senate districts to the southern part of the state, which are now held by northern California senators, when reapportionment is effected on the basis of population rather than areas, as now specified in the state constitution.

This means that only three senators will represent the area now represented by 15.

The order in effect voids the sections of the state constitution which provide for the present senatorial district set-up.

Should the legislature squabble until July 1 over reapportionment, and decide not to pass any legislation proir to the signing of a new bill, the 1965 session also would go down in history as the longest session ever held.

With the many issues before the legislature next year, it is conceivable that it could take at least six months to wind up the business without the issue of reapportionment.

However, unless the politicians start trying to cut up the new area to be converted into a gerrymandering pattern to satisfy the desires of some southern California assemblymen to become senators, the reapportionment issue could be settled rapidly.

Or, if numerous bills are introduced which attempt to circumvent the court order, these would have a delaying action.

Senator Teale, who headed a special committee to study the situation last year, however, will discourage all such antics. He believes firmly that the senate should attack the issue with speed, carry out the court order, and with dignity of the California legislature behind it, should offer a plan which would be satisfactory to the circuit court, which is merely carrying out orders of the U. S. supreme court. Maybe that will be done.

NEWS FROM DONNER TRAIL

By Betty Kielhofer

The Andy Creglows and the Cliff Ellis' mixed business with pleasure taking a flying journey to Sacramento on Saturday evening, shopped, night-clubbed and rushed back on Sunday just in time to attend the Firette's Christmas dinner-dance party at the Holiday Lodge. Andy said Cliff 'held the stick' going down and he has a new 'glint' in his eye this day. That old 'flying' fever is likely to strike again.

The Firettes party was very well attended even though it was Sunday and most had to leave early for work the next morning.

It's hard to believe the Yuletide season is upon us once again until you watch out the front street windows at the hustling activities. Mothers struggling past loaded with packages, trying to tug on their youngsters hand and open car doors all without a single mishap. Grocery clerks wheeling huge supplies back and forth all day, indicating that many are already beginning to prepare ahead for that 'big turkey day.'

Practically every other car is sporting a raised trunk with little green branches peeking out the sides.

Post office employees have a livlier gait, mail boxes are bulging at the seams, the 'Beatles' are slowly giving 'way to the soft strains of Christmas carols. Almost all are wearing broad smiles, eagerly greeting the passers-by, even the surprised looking strangers.

Odd what Christmas does for ones spirit. Makes us wonder why this can't last all year 'round.

Talked to Harold and Jo Dent recently and isn't he looking great! Though his leg is still in a cast, he gets out daily and is in fine spirits. His case is truly a miracle, and much of it can be attributed to his wonderful attitude.

The Roland Bliss and Ted Morois families were recent visitors, bringing their little ones all the way from Sacramento just to cut their own Christmas trees . . . almost a forgotten tradition. Rollie laughs that the tree is one of their most costly expenditures but it's worth it. Better hurry now the time is drawing near!

Californians Lead In Wine Drinking

Californians are still the nation's leading wine drinkers, but the rest of the country is slowly beginning to catch up, according to a special wine report prepared this week by the Economic Research Department of Bank of America.

The average Californian, according to the bank's "Grapes, Wine and Brandy Review and Outlook", drinks more than double the wine consumed individually in the other states and he is more inclined to drink table wines at mealtime than other Americans.

The national average wine consumption was .933 gallons a year per person, in 1963, but in California it was 2.12 gallons, the report points out. Nationwide, sweet dessert wines outsold table wines by a margin of two to one, but in California, table wines held a slight edge in popularity.

Even at that, Californians do not drink wines as heavily as in some other countries. The average Frenchman consumes 35 gallons a year, the Italian uses 31 gallons and the German drinks 3½ gallons.

Wine drinking habits in the rest of the United States, however, are beginning to come closer to California's. Consumption at present is increasing by an estimated two per cent a year, and the sale of table wines gradually is edging upward. Within five to eight years, the bank report estimates, table wines will outsell dessert wines nationally as will as in California.

WELFARE COSTS UP

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Social welfare costs in California will be about $16 million higher during the current fiscal year than had been estimated.

All-Time Record Is Set by Power Users

Use of electricity has hit a new all-time record of a billion kilowatts hours this year in the Northern Nevada and California area served by Sierra Pacific Power Company.

Richard K. VanDervort, power production superintendent for Sierra Pacific said the new high record was reached shortly after 9 a. m. December 10, and included the electrical output to all transmission lines of the company.

Ten years ago the systemwide electrical output to lines was slightly more than one-third of a billion kilowatt hours annually.

Power company officials said the new record emphasized the importance of the company's rapid expansion program in generating facilities.

One 53,000 kilowatt steam power plant was placed in operation little more than a year ago. Another 80,000 kilowatt plant will be put in service during 1965, and a third is scheduled to be placed in operation near Yerington in a few years.

"Now we're looking forward to our first two billion kilowatt hour year," VanDervort said, adding that company estimates indicate that it will be reached six or seven years from now, in contrast to the 64 years needed to reach the first billion kilowatt hour mark.

Applying the billion kilowatt hour figure to local uses, VanDervort said that amount of energy would provide residential electric service to Reno for eight years, in Sparks for 28 years, and in Carson City for 82 years.

To help in understanding the magnitude of a billion kilowatt hours, Sierra Pacific engineers offered the following illustrations:

A kilowatt hour of electricity is enough to light ten 100 watt light bulbs for an hour. A billion kilowatt hours of electricity will light 10 million 100 watt electric light bulbs a thousand hours, the life of the average bulb.

Counting to a thousand every minute, 8 hours a day, 5 days a week, a persons would take more than eight years to count to a billion.

The history of telephoning is a history of change—from the first commercial shoebox-like phone of 1877 down to the pretty, little Princess phone of today. Telephone scientists are continually at work, developing and testing new ideas in phones of the future—like the one which lets you see the person you're talking to. Every change is made for one reason: to make your telephone serve you better.

On Christmas day, 33 years ago, telephone lines carried the first radio broadcast of a complete opera—"Hansel and Gretel." It was transmitted coast-to-coast from the Metropolitan Opera House in New York.

It's wise to have a list of emergency phone numbers on hand. But, if you don't and need help fast, just dial zero for Operator. She has all vital numbers and the training to meet emergencies. Just give her your name and number and as much information as you can. And, here's a tip for making a "0" call in the dark: The "0" is the first dial opening below the stop bar.

BROOK TROUT MAKE UP BIG PORTION OF FOOD FOR SURVIVAL

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — What do Marines live on during the survival courses they take in the wilds of California on the eastern slope of the Sierra?

Apparently brook trout make up the biggest part of their diet. And frog is on the menu occasionally.

Colonel F. R. Wilkinson, U. S. Marine Corps, commander at the Bridgeport center, has applied to the state fish and game commission for renewal of the special permit which is required for taking of fish and game by the Marines during the survival course. The law permits exceptions to regular fish and game seasons for such survival courses.

During the year ended October 30, the Marines taking the course caught 1575 eastern brook trout, 179 frogs, 100 rainbow trout, 65 German brown trout, three deer, two tree squirrels and two cottontail rabbits.

The permit had authorized the taking of considerably more fish and game. Among items authorized which the trainees did not succeed in taking were 10 beaver, three badger, three fox, 8 varying hares, three brush rabbits, 150 Piute trout, and 300 cutthroat trout.

The commission has been asked to renew the permit for another year for the same amount of fish and game.

SIERRA SKIING

By VI WHITE

So far ever since the first snow fell last month, there has been some terrific skiing each weekend, but last Saturday must have been the best.

When we arrived at Alpine Meadows Sunday, everyone said "you should have been here yesterday"! A familiar phrase true ,but it really must have been great, fresh powder snow on pack powder base.

Sunday was mighty good though. Luggi Foeger's Ski School was busy, it's eight instructors have been teaching the accepted American technique.

Babette Haueisen of Donner Lake was teaching youngsters to manage those unweildy long things attached to their boots, but soon they got the hang of it and were delighted to be able to ski down after riding the small Poma Lift.

A new chair lift in the Weasel Pass area is being completed with the help of Nick Van Sant of Donner Lake. Manager Tim Sullivan hopes it will be in operation for the Christmas holidays.

"Tiny" Mercer of Tahoe City is again in charge of the cafeteria at the lodge and Cheese Fondue will be served the skiers each Wednesday and Saturday afternoons at 4:30 p. m.

Lifts will operate from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. daily.

New Apartments At Squaw Valley To Open Friday

SQUAW VALLEY—The grand opening of the new Squaw Valley apartments is scheduled for tomorrow in good time for the ski season which already gives promise of being the biggest season in the history of Squaw Valley.

The apartments, which represent an investment of over half a million dollars are only the beginning of a major project, according to Wayne Poulsen of the Squaw Valley Land and Livestock Company which with Weldwood structure, financed the building by Johnson and Mape of Palo Alto, contractors.

The apartments are in the luxury class, having a charming living room with stone fireplace, all-electric appliances, including dishwasher, disposal and refrigerator. Furnishing are custom designed with special features.

Paul Zell, a Swiss designer, now living in San Francisco designed the units with the skier in mind. Each has two bedrooms and two baths, with one bedroom large enough and furnished in such a way it can be used as a studio. All units are comfortable and feature a large sun deck with a beautiful view of the valley and surrounding area. Under the deck there is covered parking and private lockers are provided for ski equipment.

The apartments will be available for renting on December 20 on a seasonal basis until after Easter or by the year.

All the facilities in Squaw Valley, including the churches, post office, stores, theater, restaurants, hotels, etc., are in easy walking distance of the Squaw Vallley apartments.

The average one-family home requires 9,000 board feet of lumber.

FROZEN PIPES PROVE COSTLY IN KING HOME

Freezing water pipes can be an expensive proposition, particularly in unoccupied homes.

This was proven recently when the heat went off in the former home of Dr. and Mrs. Ben King in Gateway Park, the water lines froze and later thawed, causing a flooded house. The cost of repair and loss of personal belonging will range up to $8,000, Mrs. King said.

The Kings recently moved into their new home at Donner Lake and had put the Gateway home up for sale.
